WRANGELL COUPLE MARRIED AT SEA

Miss Mary Loftus Becomes Bride of Captain Frank Churchill

A marriage that was not without the usual flavoring of romance occurred on board the City of Seattle last week when the captain united in the bonds of matrimony Miss Mary Loftus and Frank Churchill.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill are now spending their honeymoon in Seattle. Wrangell has been the home of this young couple from their infancy and upon their return they will be showered with congratulations, and will also be given a charivari that will eclipse anything Wrangell has had for some time in the way of nocturnal annoyance.

The bride attended school at Chemawa, and is beloved for her sunshiney disposition. The groom is one of the best known young skippers in this region.

The Sentinel was fortunate enough to be remembered with a generous slice of the wedding cake which was delivered yesterday, it having been brought north by the captain on the City of Seattle.

The Sentinel joins its readers in wishing this worthy young couple a life long honeymoon, and a career of usefulness.

NATIVE SCHOOL OPENS

Enrollment Small on Account of Many Families Not Having Returned From Fishing Banks

The Wrangell Native school opened Monday morning with Mrs. Sadi Edmundson in charge. Only fifteen pupils are enrolled, but it is probable that the present enrollment will be more than doubled when some of the Native families who are still out fishing return to town. There is every reason to expect a successful year at the Native school.

Washington, Sept. 25.—The President will direct that all developments surrounding the conviction and death of Mooney, the alleged bomb thrower, be made public. The investigation follows international protest of labor organizations that Mooney had been railroaded.

L. A. Ellison, president of the Union Bay Fisheries, Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Tate, Arthur Leonard, Dave Oliver, and Ed Noble are in town from Union Bay.

Miss Sigrid Dahl arrived on the Uncle Dan yesterday from Craig where she has been visiting. She left on the Al-Ki last night for her home at Petersburg.

Mrs. J. G. Grant returned Friday from Tacoma where she had been to place her daughter, Miss Margaret, in the Anna Wright seminary.

Ensign W. Kerr, financial representative of the Salvation Army, is in Wrangell. He is returning to Prince Rupert from an itinerary that took him as far north as Dawson.

LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

Wrangell Girl Becomes Member of Faculty of School in the American Metropolis

Miss Katherine Bronson sailed south on the Princess Sophia Saturday morning en route to New York City where she will become a member of the faculty of Brearley's Private School for Girls.

Three months ago Miss Bronson graduated with honors from the Sargent School of Physical Education at Boston. She then came direct to Wrangell where she spent the vacation. It was the first time she had been home in four years, and every one could readily see that she was as happy as could be to be back to the scenes of her childhood with parents, sister, and friends.

Miss Bronson dearly loves the outdoor life and while here spent most of her time in the open. Last month she went to Duncan canal as a guest of Mayor and Mrs. Matheson on a hunting trip, and proved her ability to shoot by killing two deer.

During the summer she organized two classes in calisthenics, and since school opened has been giving physical instruction fifteen minutes a day in each room. This she was glad to do gratis. The day before Miss Bronson sailed the school children presented her with a large picture of Wrangell and a fossil ivory pin as a token of their appreciation of her kindness to them.

Filled with enthusiasm, and a superb physical specimen of young womanhood, Miss Bronson's very presence breathed such a life current that we can not fail to miss her.

NEW CASHIER FOR BANK OF ALASKA AT ANCHORAGE

E. B. Ansley Succeeds Dr. J. T. Westermann

Andrew Stevenson, president of the Bank of Alaska, was a passenger from Seattle to Skagway on the Princess Sophia Tuesday morning. In company with Mr. Stevenson were Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ansley and Mr. Burton Cloket.

Mr. Ansley will become cashier and manager of the Bank of Alaska at Anchorage, succeeding Dr. J. T. Westermann who left two weeks ago for New York to enlist. Mr. Ansley is an experienced banking man. He resigned as assistant cashier of the National City Bank at Seattle to come to Alaska.

Mr. Cloket, who is also a most capable man, will be associated with Vice President Hillery in the Bank of Alaska at Cordova.

RED + CROSS NOTES

If any member has any Red Cross sewing at home she will please return it to the hall Saturday afternoon, as the box that is to be sent away must be packed Tuesday.

The monthly meeting of the Executive committee will be held at the town hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Lima, Sept. 26.—The government has instructed the Peruvian minister to present the German government a demand this afternoon over the sinking of the Peruvian bark Lorton. Germany is given eight days in which to satisfy the Peruvian government, and if she does not meet the demands to the letter diplomatic relations will be broken.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Carl Carlson will leave on the Princess Alice tomorrow night for Seattle where he will enter the University of Washington. He will enroll as a member of the United States Reserve Officers' Training Corps, which will give him excellent military training through the operation of the revised curriculum in military science and tactics. A letter from the president of the University advised Carl that he will be required to wear a uniform daily in place of the usual civilian clothes.

Nicholas Nussbaumer this week received official notice that his application for enlistment in the 20th Engineers regiment had been accepted. He was ordered to report at the nearest recruiting station for examination. Mr. Nussbaumer leaves on the Jefferson for Fort Seward where he will undergo a physical examination. If he passes he will probably be ordered to report at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

A deal was closed Wednesday in which M. Katzenmeyer sold his half interest in the Wrangell Machine shop to his partner, F. E. Gingrass. The conveying was done by Judge Wm. G. Thomas. Mr. Gingrass will continue to conduct the business. Mr. Katzenmeyer leaves in the near future for Seattle. He stated to the reporter that he did not know where he would locate, but that he would keep us advised as to his whereabouts, as he wished the Sentinel to follow him where ever he may go.

Miss Lynn Worden sailed for Seattle on the Spokane Tuesday night. On account of her parents leaving Wrangell her home in the future will be in the States. Miss Worden grew up in Wrangell and through her work in the post office for several years became the most widely known girl in the Wrangell district. Last year she attended the Broadway high school in Seattle, and was selected by the faculty out of more than 900 pupils to write the school play which was presented just prior to the holidays. The play was so well received that Miss Worden, as its author, was showered with congratulations upon its success. Miss Worden possesses marked literary talent and will undoubtedly be heard from in the field of journalism.

Governor B. B. Comer of Alabama, arrived Tuesday night from a hunting expedition in the region of Dease Lake. The governor reached Telegraph Creek too late for the Hazel B III, but that did not stop him on his journey. He hired two Indians to bring him down the river in a canoe, a distance of 153 miles. It rained all the way but the governor reached Wrangell none the worse for the exposure. When seen at the Wrangell hotel by the Sentinel reporter Governor Comer said: "Well, I killed all the game law allowed, and was fortunate in securing some exceptionally fine specimens. The Dease Lake country is no doubt the greatest big game region in North America. I never enjoyed an outing more in my life, and regret that I could not have remained in the wilds longer."

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Tromblé arrived on the Princess Alice from the States Tuesday morning. They were en route to Craig where Mr. Tromblé is owner of the sawmill.

CHAIRMAN OF THE ROAD COMMISSION VISITS WRANGELL

In response to numerous letters written to the Territorial Road commission by Representative P. C. McCormack, Mr. E. C. Hurlbutt, chairman of Divisional Road commission No. 1, arrived in Wrangell yesterday to look over the proposed road to the cemetery.

If the road is constructed the expense will be met jointly by the Forest service and the Territorial Road commission.

W. G. Weigle and W. Waugh of the Forest Service were here looking over the ground some time ago and approved the proposition.

Upon Mr. Hurlbutt's return to Juneau there will be a meeting of the Divisional Road commission, which is composed of Mr. Hurlbutt as chairman, and Messrs. H. D. Tripp and F. E. P. Keegan. If two of the members favor the proposition the Commission will order the road built, the Commission working in conjunction with the Forest Service.

It is not known whether the construction would be done under the supervision of the Road commission or the Forest Service, in case it is built. However that is a matter about which the people of Wrangell care very little. What they want is a ROAD, and want it with as little delay as possible.

Hawksworth Visits Wrangell

Charles Hawksworth, superintendent of the Indian schools was in Wrangell Saturday. He was present at the opening of the Native school at Hyaburg, which is in charge of J. P. Wells, a school man who comes from southern Oregon where he was school superintendent for nine years.

The school at Klawack opened with Prof. C. E. Hibbs in charge. His three assistants are Miss Orr, Miss Sullivan, and Miss Maloney. The school at Metlakatla will open October 1.

Regarding the Wrangell Native school Mr. Hawksworth said: "The school here is in charge of one of the very best teachers in the service."

"Mrs. Edmundson's exhibit in Juneau last term was attended by the other teachers of the city, and was a revelation of what did not seem possible."

"Mrs. Edmundson gets results, and if the Natives in this vicinity will encourage good attendance I am sure this year will be one of progress for the Wrangell Native school."

Presbyterian Church.

The subject for the Sunday evening service is Man. Text: Matt. 16:13 "Who do men say, that I, the Son of Man am?" And Heb. 2:6 "What is man that thou art mindful of him, or the son of man that thou visitest him?"

The subject for the Friday evening study will be the processes of redemption and the order or division of time as to them.

These services will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. We will be glad to have you come and take part in the services and studies.

Mrs. H. G. Stevens arrived from Seattle on the Princess Alice Tuesday morning. She was en route to Craig to join her husband who is foreman at the sawmill operated by F. J. Tromblé.

OUR FIRST YEAR IN WRANGELL

One year ago this week the Sentinel became the property of its present publisher.

The year has been a very busy one for us, and also one of much interest.

The net showing for the year falls somewhat short of our expectation, but our efforts have not been wholly unrewarded.

We are willing to make an affidavit that our subscription list has doubled since we took charge. We have invoices on file in our office which show that we have invested nearly a thousand dollars in new equipment, which is all paid for.

At the time we took charge of the Sentinel it was turning out an inferior grade of job printing. The job printing of the past year has been fully up to the standard of that turned out by the largest and most reputable printing concerns in the States. We are proud of the high quality of our job printing, and the people of Wrangell show their appreciation by giving us their patronage. We do not know of a single instance where anyone is sending out of town for printing.

We should like to have a better advertising patronage. We believe that every business in Wrangell should advertise. If advertising did not pay the most successful business concerns in the United States would not carry ads in such publications as the Saturday Evening Post at four thousand dollars per page for a single issue. However, we are confident that advertising in the Sentinel will increase as its value as an advertising medium becomes more appreciated.

The people of Wrangell have a businesslike way of dealing which makes it a pleasure to do business with them. The Sentinel accounts are worth very close to 100 cents on the dollar. On the first of the month we can collect every dollar owing for advertising in thirty minutes. Bills for subscription are usually mailed, and rarely ever fail to bring a remittance. There have been only two instances in the past twelve months where a subscriber has failed to respond to a bill for subscription. We have less than a dozen subscribers who are not paid in advance.

Before we took charge of the Sentinel it was never known to be out on time to get to the West Coast the week it was published. We have never been late once, and we have never missed getting the papers for the West Coast off on the Uncle Dan the same day the paper was published.

We mention these things to show that we are making an effort to give meritorious service.

We have great faith in the future of Wrangell. The town will grow and the Sentinel, with the co-operation of the people, will grow with it. We believe that our efforts are appreciated, and this makes us more anxious that each succeeding year will show marked improvement. As soon as the Sentinel needs a society editor we are going to offer a partnership in the business to some lady who is an accomplished scribbler and can also sew on buttons.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT DRAFT.

You need not worry. If you are registered for selective service you have two alternatives. Either your "key" number is drawn for the first draft or it is not. If not, you need not worry. If it is, you have two alternatives. Either you are exempted or you are not. If exempted you need not worry. If drafted you have two alternatives. Either you are called into training camp or you are not. If not, you are not. If you are you have two alternatives. Either you are sent to France or you are not. If you are not, you need not worry. If you are you have two alternatives. Either you fight or you don't fight. If you don't you need not worry. If you do, you have two alternatives. Either you get hurt or you don't. If you don't you need not worry. If you do, there are two alternatives. Either you recover or you don't. If you do, you need not worry. If you don't, you will never need to worry again. And then, again, the war may be over before Christmas. Keep your eye on the effect of President Wilson's embargo.—Ex.

CRAIG MAN GETS IN BAD IN SEATTLE

F. J. Tromblé, owner of the sawmill at Craig, and a brother of Mrs. W. H. Warren of Wrangell, sailed south a few days ago on a business trip to the States.

The following from the Hoquiam Washingtonian tells how Mr. Tromblé's visit to Seattle caused a young man of that city to start out looking for trouble:

The following is from yesterday's Seattle Post-Intelligencer showing how much "trouble" the misplacement of a letter can make:

"Trouble I'm looking for trouble," declared a grim-appearing youth in messenger's uniform in the Butler hotel lobby last evening. He was husky enough to get a job in Jess Willard's training camp, therefore his call was unchallenged as he made the round of the lobby "looking for trouble." "No trouble here," said Clerk Charles Maybury, "you'd better go somewhere else if you want trouble." "Ah, g'wan," replied the kid. "De man's name is Trouble, F. J. Trouble, of Alaska, and I have something to deliver to him." Mr. Trouble has not arrived yet, but is expected.

Anybody who lives in Hoquiam will readily see that the "Trouble" the kid was looking for is our former fellow townsman, Frank J. Tromblé, now of Craig, Alaska.

Praying for Victory.

Huxby said with a sneer, "How many foot pounds are there in a prayer?" Many people, in these war times are asking the same question. Both sides are praying for victory, and how can they both be answered, and therefore what is the use in praying at all?

Those who talk this way fail to understand the A B C of prayer. So the theme at St. Philip's church Sunday evening will be "Praying for Victory—Its value and necessity." This is a most practical question for every patriot. So come and join in the service.

Red Cross Knights

I WILL be a Red Cross knight!
I will wear the sign!
I will help the godly fight
With the strength that's mine!

SOME may blow the stirring fife,
Some may win a sword,
Some may give a precious life
Fighting for the Lord.

BUT at home my task is plain—
Not the field for me.
Yet with heart and hand and brain
Soldier I may be!

I MAY knit and sew and fold;
I may save and give
Pennies, dollars, notes or gold
That our boys may live.

TAKE the Cross and lend a hand
In the godly fight
Children of a gallant land,
Each a Red Cross knight!

WHAT THE IRISH WOULD DO WITH GERMANY

When the war is over, laddie,
Just take a tip from me:
There'll be no German submarines
A divin' thru the sea:
For the Fatherland of "Kaiser Bill"
The guy we're going to lick,
Will have a brand new Kaiser,
And the same will be a Mick.
We'll change the song, "Die Wacht
Am Rhein," into an Irish reel,
And make the Dutchmen dance to it.
If 'tis so inclined we feel:
For the police force in Berlin
Will be Micks from County Clare,
When we put an Irish Kaiser
In the palace over there.

Sure in every German parkway
You'll find a sweet colleen,
And the fields of waving sauerkraut
We will plant with shamrocks green.
No liverwurst or sausage when
The Dutchman drinks his suds,
He'll get corned beef and cabbage
And good old Irish spuds:
The heathen guns and gas bombs,
We'll throw them all away
And make them use shillalahs
Or bricks of Irish clay:
They'll sport no iron crosses,
Sure 'tis shamrocks they will wear
When we put an Irish Kaiser
In the palace over there.

Forehanded!
Little Peter had disobeyed his mother, and when in a shocked voice she called him to her he came running, with the tears streaming over his flushed face.
"You won't," he sobbed, clinging to her hand—"you won't have to whip me, mummy, 'cause I'm cryin' already!"—

BEEGLE NAMED ON FISH HATCHERY BOARD

John R. Beegle, one of the best known men of the Ketchikan section, has been appointed by Gov. J. F. A. Strong to succeed J. R. Heckman as a member of the Territorial Fish Hatchery Board. The appointment was made necessary owing to the fact that Heckman and W. W. Casey, who were originally appointed were unable to serve owing to having been members of the Legislature which established the board.

Mr. Beegle has been in the Ketchikan section for many years and was for the greater part of the time customs officer at that port. Later he resigned to engage in the fisheries business and is at present manager of the Pure Food Fish company, which operates a cannery in the city of Ketchikan. He is heavily interested with Mr. Heckman in other fisheries ventures.

Although an integral part of the one system, each branch has had assigned to it the full amount of Capital required by the Territorial Banking Board for the establishment of a Bank in such a location. Each branch is therefore equipped to serve its customers as fully as any independent bank but with the added strength and resources of the entire institution to draw upon. Furthermore each is responsible to the Territorial Banking Board, is examined and supervised independently and renders its statement direct to the Board. The Bank of Alaska is therefore, because of its double supervision and safeguards, peculiarly "An Institution of Strength and Character."

Fred J. Mersheimer, a prominent citizen of Washington, D.C., who recently returned from Europe is strongly in favor of the movement to raise a soldiers' tobacco fund. He says:

"I most heartily approve this splendid, patriotic movement. It affords every one an opportunity to contribute to the comfort and enjoyment of our soldiers in the trenches.

"From my own observation and what I have heard from soldiers nothing gives them more genuine delight or pleasure while in the field than tobacco. They long for it when they cannot get it, and are entirely different men without their smokes. Tobacco seems to brighten and cheer and comfort them. They should have their American tobacco everywhere they go. I am sure this movement will appeal strongly to folks not only in Washington but throughout the country, who know the joys of a good smoke and who may be relied upon to do their bit for the boys 'over there'."
